New jobs on horizon as Iceland moves in

BY Suzan Uzel

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

FROZEN food giant Iceland is to open a branch in the former Woolworths store in Haverhill.

The national retailer confirmed it has purchased the premises in High Street, as well 50 other former Woolworths stores across the country.

Tania Barry, spokeswoman for Iceland, said: "I can confirm that following the successful acquisition of 51 Woolworths stores, Iceland will be creating in the region of 2,500 jobs across the country in the coming year.

"We are confident we can help to support the local community in these towns who have lost a major high street retailer in Woolworths.

"We look forward to becoming part of your local community and helping to build a bright future for 2009."

She said that the time-scale for the opening of the Iceland store in Haverhill was not yet known.

Woolworths stores in Haverhill and Saffron Walden were the last to go in the region last Tuesday with a combined loss of 50 jobs.

The firm's 807 stores closed throughout the final weeks of December and start of January after selling off stock, fixtures and fittings at discount prices.

Sarah Howard, chair of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the news. She said: "It is fantastic as it offers more employment to the town and means the High Street site won't be left empty.

"We have had a number of shops close in the town in the last year, mostly estate agents, but the sites have been taken over quite quickly, bucking the trend almost.

■ KEEPING ACTIVE . . . exercise classes for the over 50s have proved very popular.

Picture: Keith Jones 529413.

Big stretch for keep fit classes

OLDER keep fit fans have not let the closure of their local leisure centre stop them from attending popular classes.

When Haverhill Leisure Centre closed for a 12-month refurbishment scheme last June, members of the Over 50s Keep Active sessions moved to nearby Chalkstone Community Centre, where they proved so popular that an extra day had to be provided.

Laura Flowers, duty assistant manager at the Pod temporary building where gym equipment is located while the Leisure Centre is shut, said the closure had not reduced the popularity of the sessions which cater for up to 30 people aged from their 50s to their 80s.

Laura said: "They even had to put on an extra day as it used to be just Monday and Thursday and now it is Wednesday as well.

It caters for anyone over the age of 50.

"They start with gentle exercise with instruction by Carol Clerklin, then they have a cup of tea and a biscuit. It is also a chance to catch up and have a chat. The people who go really love it and for some of them it is their one day out of the week."

Anyone interested in joining the classes can get more information on (01440) 702548.

Appeal needs your help to raise the final £10k

BY Suzan Uzel

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

WITH the new year in full swing, now is the perfect time to dig deep and give something back to the community through our St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

The Weekly News needs your help to hit the £40,000 target so patients in the Haverhill area can receive services in their own homes, rather than having to travel to the hospice in Bury St Edmunds.

This year is the 25th anniversary of St Nicholas Hospice Care, and what better way to say thank you for the dedicated work it has done over the past quarter of a century than to help raise the vital cash it needs to keep caring in the community?

Anyone who is organising a fundraising event can help us boost the appeal total. Just before Christmas, the committee of the Mount Pleasant Club in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, organised a table sale. Julie Collis, organiser of the Haverhill Slimming World Club, which uses the venue, got her employer, Sainsbury's, to match the amount. The club handed over a generous £136 to our appeal.

The new year got off to a cracking start when the HAVAC Walkers Club handed over £150, and 2008 went out with a bang when the Haverhill Lions Club put £200 towards the cause in December.

Thanks to the generosity of local people a grand sum of £30,000 has so far been reached towards the appeal and we need your help to raise the last £10,000.

Ian Norris, community fundraiser for the hospice, said: "As a registered charity we provide our services entirely free to all those who need our help and support.

"St Nicholas Hospice Care has running costs of £4.8 million per year. Government sources fund less than a quarter of this, leaving us to raise the rest through the generosity of the local community."

Anyone interested in supporting the cause can contact Ian on (01284) 747613.

How can you help us hit the target?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fundraising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause?

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Driver in fatal drug crash gets six years

A DRIVER who caused the "wholly unnecessary" death of a grandfather while under the influence of drugs has been jailed for six years.

Helen Nunn, of Ditton Fields, Cambridge, was driving a Toyota MR2 when it was involved in a four-vehicle smash in which Donald McCallum, a pensioner from Dartford, Kent, died.

Nunn, 41, denied causing death by careless driving while under the influence of drugs but was convicted in a unanimous verdict by a jury at Cambridge Crown Court, who heard she had taken a large dose of amphetamines.

She was sentenced last week by Judge Jonathan Haworth, who said he wanted to send out a clear message that driving

BY John Downing

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

after taking drugs was unacceptable. He banned her from driving for five years.

The accident happened on the northbound A11 close to Stumps Cross, Great Chesterford, as Mr McCallum was travelling to visit his family in Haverhill on December 3, 2007.

He had hit the crash barrier close to the A505 slip road and was inspecting the damage to his vehicle.

Three cars and a lorry had managed to drive around him before Nunn's car clipped his vehicle and hit him.

Claire Matthews, defending, said Nunn had suffered flashbacks since the accident and had struggled to come to terms with it. She said Nunn had shown remorse.

The court heard Nunn had taken "a dose of amphetamines" the day before the fatal crash, as was her habit a couple of times a week.

Judge Haworth said: "When the following day your blood was tested, the concentration of amphetamines in your blood showed a high quantity."

"The effect of those drugs with regards to impairment of driving can last much longer than people think. It's quite clear your ability to drive was impaired."

"The unfortunate victim was standing by his car in the outside lane of the road having hit the barrier. A number of vehicles passed him without incident."

"Despite the fact you had ample time to brake you failed to react in time. The consequence was you drove into the car and into him."

"In short, his death was wholly unnecessary. It was occasioned by your driving while under the influence of drugs."

He said the death was a tragedy for Nunn but a far greater tragedy for Mr McCallum and his family.

A spokesman for road safety charity Brake said: "Research suggests that a horrifying numbers of casualties on our roads may involve drug drivers and it's good to see the justice system actually catching, prosecuting and punishing them."

"We need to see the Government helping the police and the courts to do their jobs effectively when dealing with people who have chosen to drive after taking drugs by urgently approving roadside drug testing devices."

Iceland move to boost town jobs

"It is a shame that Woolworths has gone but obviously this was a national event, not due to a local issue, and it's encouraging that Iceland is moving in."

Mrs Howard said: "Iceland does tend to attract more footfall to a town centre so hopefully its arrival should have a knock-on effect on the other shops in the town. The more people attracted to the town, the more people are going to see and use the independent shops we have."

She added: "The new cinema complex is also attracting people to the town and the restaurants seem to be well used so although obviously times are very tough, there are some encouraging signs."

Tina Hanks, town centre manager for Haverhill, said: "The purchase of the former Woolworths store in Haverhill High Street by Iceland is yet another indication of the private sector investment which continues to be attracted into this growing town."

Cllr Les Ager, mayor of Haverhill, said: "I think it's good news. Iceland is a reputable company and it is good for the town that the property has been taken so quickly."

"Iceland's products are usually good value and there are about 40 people who lost their jobs at Woolworths so it would be good news if they could be re-employed."

Meeting over travellers site

AN MP will meet with members of an action group to discuss plans to enlarge a travellers' site.

Conservative MP for Suffolk West, Richard Spring, will meet members of the Wickhambrook Action Group to talk about the proposals for the site at Kelly's Meadow, in Wickhambrook, this Friday. They were due to meet at noon at Park Paddocks, Tattersalls, in Newmarket.

The Government recently allocated £97 million to provide extra pitches for gypsies and travellers. As a result, St Edmundsbury Borough Council is required to increase the number of pitches in the area.

Mr Spring said: "Of course travellers need somewhere to live but we are talking about spending a ridiculous amount of money – £737,000 – on something that has the potential to divide the community, especially as the existing travellers on site also recognise the huge cost to the taxpayer."

"It is absurd that as a result of the absolute requirement by central government to increase the number of pitches on this site we would lose control of the number of caravans out of the control of the present occupiers. This could produce a whole series of cost, environmental and enforcement problems."

Your rights if jobs go

HAVERHILL
Citizens Advice
Bureau

offers advice on
redundancy.

Q: THE company I work for hasn't been doing so well recently and there are rumours they are going to be making a lot of people redundant. What are my rights in this situation? How do I know whether I've been chosen fairly and do I have to accept the redundancy?

A: Where an employer is making 20 or more employees redundant, this is called a "collective redundancy". An employer making a collective redundancy has to consult with a recognised trade union where there is one. Where there is no recognised trade union, an employer should consult with employee representatives before issuing redundancy notices.

You can only be dismissed because you are genuinely redundant, e.g. your company's business, or part of the business, is ceasing to operate, moving to a different place, or the type of work required by the business has ceased or diminished or is expected to diminish.

When your employer chooses who to make redundant, it is illegal to use selection criteria which discriminate against anyone because of their age, gender, race, disability, sexual orientation, religion or belief. For example, if all the people chosen for redundancy are women, this would usually be sex discrimination and unfair dismissal.

To be entitled to statutory redundancy pay you need to have worked for the firm for at least two years continuously since the age of 16 and be an employee. Self-employed people do not qualify. If you do not meet these conditions, you won't get a statutory redundancy payment, even if you are genuinely redundant. If you are excluded from statutory redundancy pay you may still be entitled to contractual redundancy pay from your employer under your contract.

This is a complicated area and if you are in this position you should seek the help of an experienced adviser.

For more information on redundancy and to find your local bureau online, go to www.adviceguide.org.uk

Couple's anger over dumped rubbish pile

BY Suzan Uzel

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A RETIRED couple woke up to discover a pile of rubbish had been dumped at the bottom of their garden.

The fly-tipped haul included a fridge, microwave, computer and mattress as well as a supermarket trolley.

Rosemary and Alan Seaborn, of Withersfield Road, Haverhill, said it was disgusting to find the debris and burnt out rubbish bags had been chucked in the brook and on the bank behind their home last week.

Mr Seaborn said the people who had dumped the rubbish had "shown absolute disrespect for other people, the wildlife and the environment".

He added: "It is absolutely disgusting. These people have no moral upstanding at all."

Mrs Seaborn said she and her husband had spent nearly £30,000 on improving the area next to the brook by planting silver birch trees and having the bank grassed.

She said she was "appalled" and "livid" when she found out what had happened.

She added: "There are people out there that disregard people's living environment and don't dispose of rubbish in the correct manner."

"They don't want to pay so they just dump it on someone else's land."

"They are just undesirables we could do without. To me there is not a sentence strong enough to bring these people to order."

The couple have lived in the house for two and a half years but this is the first time they have experienced fly tipping.

A spokeswoman for the Environment Agency said the rubbish was due to be inspected today.

She said: "Technically it may well be the landowner's responsibility to remove it, however if it is likely to cause a blockage and potentially flooding then we would remove it straight away. If not, then we will try to get it sorted out another way."

"If there is any way we can trace the owner of the rubbish then we will and we do prosecute people for this kind of behaviour."

Sleigh bells ring success

HAVERHILL Round Table raised more than £3,000 for local charities during December.

Charles Gurteen, of Haverhill Round Table, said he wanted to thank Haverhill residents for their kind donations.

He said: "Many people will have seen the sleigh out in the evenings and in the High Street on Saturdays, and some were understandably a little hesitant to give to charity during these difficult times."

But Mr Gurteen added that £3,313 was nevertheless a "fantastic" sum to have raised.

He said: "A special mention must go to Sadie Miller and her friends of Westbourne Court who donated £250 from their raffle winnings this year.

"As in previous years, all money raised goes back into the town for people in need."

If you know anyone who could benefit from a little help from the Round Table, email haverhillRT@nals.co.uk

There will also be a Citizens Advice Bureau Polish drop-in on Tuesday, January 27, between 10.30am and 12.30pm, and between 4pm and 6pm at the Haverhill Council Offices. 'You will get caught' police warn drivers over the limit

POLICE are concerned about the dramatic rise in the number of motorists caught drink-driving over the Christmas and New Year period.

Figures released by the Suffolk force show that 310 motorists gave positive breath tests – more than three times the number caught in the previous year's campaign.

Jacqui Cheer, deputy chief constable and vice-chair of the Suffolk Roadsafe Board, said: "These results show a dramatic and disappointing rise in the number of people who are willing to risk their own lives and the lives of others by drink driving."

"This is of great concern, but should also act as a warning – if you drink and drive, you will get caught. With almost 800

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

more people being breath tested in December '08 compared to the year before, it is more likely than ever that you will be stopped. It is hard to believe that people are continuing to take such a huge risk.

"The message is simple: if you've had a drink, don't drive."

An average of 10 motorists were caught every day of the police campaign, which was carried out in December. They included the driver of a car which collided with the wall of a pub in Newmarket who was subsequently given a suspended jail sentence and banned from the road for five years.

The campaign saw 3,858 breath tests conducted by Suffolk officers. The number of positive tests equates to eight per cent compared with three per cent the previous year when just 94 drivers were found to be over the limit.

Half the number of people who failed the breath test gave an alcohol reading of two or more times the legal limit, which is 35 micrograms of alcohol per 100ml of breath.

A total of 79 drivers breath-tested after road crashes were found to be over the limit.

The month-long Christmas drink drive campaign was part of a wider road safety campaign supported by Suffolk Roadsafe.

Between September 1 and December 31, increased enforcement has seen officers catch 1,711 people not wearing a seatbelt, 525 motorists using their mobile phones and 1,290 drivers speeding.

Hospice scheme takes off

HOSPICE patients and their families are to receive free legal advice from solicitors under a new scheme.

St Nicholas Hospice Care is piloting the scheme where local solicitors will hold regular legal surgeries to give free advice to patients and their families. Barbara Gale, chief executive, said: "When you are faced with a life-limiting illness all sorts of matters take on a different significance and there is sometimes a need to 'put your house in order'.

"When you have various doctor's appointments to attend you may not have the energy to make yet another appointment. You might also wonder if it is important enough to make a solicitor's appointment.

"St Nicholas Hospice Care wants to do as much as possible to help our patients and their families achieve peace of mind. "As we had a good relationship with local solicitors through Wills Week organised by our legacy officer, Margaret Lee, we asked her to approach local solicitors."

Margaret Lee was amazed at the response. She said:

"Seventeen local solicitors were interested in helping our patients. We were really encouraged by how supportive they were.

"Some solicitors have also agreed to give consultations over the phone making it even easier for our patients and their families to receive free legal advice."

Other participating solicitors are: Metcalfe Copeman and Pettefar, Pooley Bendall & Watson, Adams Harrison, Story & Robison, Risbygate Solicitors, Jackaman, Smith & Mulley, Atkins.

Services given 'good' rating

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SERVICES for children and families in Suffolk are "making good progress" according to the latest report by Ofsted inspectors.

Suffolk County Council is said to have "sustained its strong performance" according to the report.

Services for children and families, including schools and social care for vulnerable children, were rated good on each measure. The report added: "Strong leadership drives a clear determination to improve the lives of children and young people."

Suffolk county councillor Patricia O'Brien, Portfolio Holder for Children, Schools and Young People's Services, welcomed the findings.

She said: "This is a positive report which matches our own understanding of how well Suffolk children are supported and protected by council and other services in Suffolk.

"We are very far from complacent but we are confident that vulnerable children in Suffolk are well protected."

She added that particular strengths singled out in the report included the effectiveness of the Suffolk Safeguarding Children Board, and improvements in the achievements of children looked after at local schools.

Cllr O'Brien said the fostering and adoption services were praised.

She added: "It is very important that children looked after by the council are in good health and have generally stable situations with foster families.

"Children in council care usually face many difficulties in life arising from their family situations, and it is vital that they receive very good support from us."

Cllr O'Brien said the council was proud of its £1m investment in front-line services with 38 newly-qualified social workers joining the children's services since July, which would improve efficiency in preventive child protection work.

Investment, recruitment and improvement would continue, but the whole community had to be effective in protecting and supporting children.

"We can have confidence in our local services, whether social care, health or police, so that everyone can make a difference by working together for our young people now, who are our future," she said.

Man cleared of assault on taxi driver

A PHARMACIST who said he lashed out at a taxi driver in a "moment of panic" because he feared he was about to be attacked has been cleared of assault.

Steven Laycock, 51, kicked the man before striking him repeatedly across the back of the head with a torch.

Mr Laycock, of Church Street, Withersfield, claimed that taxi driver Raymond Dean, 43, had been acting in an intimidating manner.

After hearing Mr Laycock give evidence, a jury at Ipswich Crown Court found him not guilty of assault occasioning actual bodily harm, an offence he had denied.

Mr Laycock admitted that he had shone a high-powered torch towards Mr Dean's taxi as it travelled through Withersfield late on the evening of June 8 last year.

But he said his only intention had been to ensure that the driver was aware that he and his wife were walking along a section of road where there was no footpath and to encourage the car to slow down.

The court heard that Mr Laycock, who had been out for the evening at the White Horse public house in Withersfield, believed that the taxi driven by Mr Dean had been travelling in excess of the 30mph speed limit which he said was a common problem in the village.

Mr Dean told the court that he had been on his way to pick up a fare at the same pub where Mr Laycock and his wife spent the evening and had become aware of a very bright light being shone at him.

He saw a couple walking along the road and pulled out to avoid them, said Mr Dean, but the light continued to be shone towards his vehicle.

Mr Dean said: "It was blinding me. I was forced to stop. By this time I had gone past the person with the torch. I rolled back and wound down the passenger window to say that there was no need for the torch in my face".

After Mr Dean tried to push Mr Laycock's torch, which was still pointing towards him, to one side he was kicked on the leg by Mr Laycock.

Mr Dean said that while he was doubled up trying to defend himself a series of blows delivered with the torch that Mr Laycock was holding rained down on the back of his head. He later required treatment in the accident and emergency department of Addenbrooke's Hospital.

Mr Laycock said it was his habit to carry his high-powered torch at shoulder height to illuminate the way ahead and to help warn motorists of his presence.

After Mr Dean got out of his cab carrying a torch, Mr Laycock became concerned. He said: "I was quite frightened. My assumption was that he was going to do something. I wasn't quite sure what."

Force's move on equality

A POLICE force has been commended as the "most improved" for its employment of lesbian, gay and bisexual staff.

The Suffolk force has been ranked in the top 100 employers by Stonewall, the gay equality charity.

It is the first time the force has made the top 100 and is among 17 police forces to be listed.

The force has been ranked at 84 – a rise of 78 places from last year. It is the fifth most improved organisation in the index and the most-improved police force.

Stonewall surveyed more than 7,000 employees across the country employed by more than 300 organisations.

It looked at equality policies and how the organisations engaged with lesbian and gay staff as well as the public.

Simon Ash, Suffolk's chief constable, said: "The principles of diversity, inclusion and equality must sit at the heart of any truly modern and forward-thinking organisation."

Suffolk County Council is ranked 94th in the listing. Cambridgeshire police do not feature.

Big new plans for hospital to help little lives

PLANS are under way for a £28 million extension of the Rosie Maternity Hospital, to cope with the Cambridge region's soaring birth-rate while giving mothers and babies better care.

The Rosie is set for a three-storey extension, creating a midwifery-led birthing unit and doubling the number of intensive care cots for the sickest babies from 27 to 58.

New housing developments and rapid population growth around Cambridge are driving the plans.

Another factor is a move to specialist centres for the most complex births led by the East of England Strategic Health Authority (SHA).

■ PLANS . . . Stephen Graves.

The Rosie will become one of three such centres in the East.

project expected to start in late autumn this year.

Stephen Graves, the hospital's director of corporate development, said: "The goal of this is to improve care for the local population, but also to deliver specialist care for the wider population and improve the quality of the environment within which we can deliver that care."

The 10-bed midwifery-led birthing unit will allow mothers to stay in one room under a single midwife – instead of switching from delivery room to ward and being under the supervision of teams of doctors and midwives.

Dr Mary Archer, the hospitals' chairman, noted in a recent report to governors that she met with the SHA to discuss "the trust's urgent need to extend the Rosie".

The Rosie, given top rating by the Healthcare Commission last year, was designed for between 3,000 and 4,000 births a year when it opened 25 years ago.

But the hospital saw 5,200 births last year, a 7 per cent increase on the previous year.

With the extension, the Rosie could cater for up to 7,000 births a year.

The birthing unit would be on the ground floor of the extension, with foetal medicine and support services, such as caesarean surgery, on the first floor and neonatal intensive care cots on the second floor.

The trust plans to finance the project through its own cash surplus and borrowing from Government schemes.

Council offers extra support

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COUNCIL is supporting local businesses and low income households following a summit of all Suffolk's councils to look at ways of beating the credit crunch.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Cabinet has already proposed a freeze on Council Tax and is pumping funds into the local economy to keep it vibrant.

Cllr John Griffiths, the council's leader, said: "We have always placed a high priority on boosting the local economy to promote prosperity in, and bring hundreds of new jobs to, our borough.

"While our economy currently remains relatively strong there are significant challenges and some signs of slowdown.

"Because we made sensible provisions during easier times we are now able to support those who need a little extra help to get through these more difficult times."

Funds have been targeted at a variety of schemes which have included a boost for local businesses by providing bursaries and training initiatives, contributions to the Christmas lights, and a new business competition to encourage tourism.

Grants have also been paid to town centre managements in Bury St Edmunds and Haverhill to improve shop fronts and update and improve small business units.

Other support mechanisms are either being funded by St Edmundsbury, or are available because the council has been successful at securing external funding.

These include helping the Citizens Advice Bureau prevent homelessness, grants to low income households to bring homes up to a decent standard, free products and grants for low income households to improve energy efficiency and help with fuel poverty.

Officers on the move

A POLICE officer who has previously served in the Newmarket and Haverhill areas is the new commander for Ipswich.

Chief Inspector Mark Jepson was a sergeant and detective sergeant at Newmarket before taking command at Haverhill as an inspector in 2002.

He has now become district commander at Ipswich where he was previously crime manager. His replacement as crime manager is Detective Chief Inspector David Cutler, a former Metropolitan Police detective.

DVDs stolen from car

A DVD system, DVDs and CDs were stolen from a car which was broken into overnight at Haverhill.

The theft happened at Garlands Close between 4pm on Tuesday, January 6, and 9.15am the next day when a black Ford Focus CMax was broken into by smashing a window. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Hylton Garrick at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100.

Firm wins award for fight against disease

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ONE of Haverhill's leading employers has received a prestigious industry award for its programme to discover and advance novel treatments for neglected diseases.

Biotech company Genzyme has won the 2008 Scrip Award for Corporate Social Responsibility for its collaboration with Fiocruz, the largest biomedical research institution in Latin America, to advance new treatments for Chagas disease.

The collaboration is part of Genzyme's Humanitarian Assistance for Neglected Diseases (HAND) initiative.

Paul Drohan, vice president and general manager of Genzyme UK & Ireland, said: "Genzyme views corporate responsibility as an extension of its commitment to patients.

"We believe the HAND initiative provides a model for public-private partnerships in combating neglected diseases and are delighted that its value has been recognised with the Scrip Award."

Chagas disease is a life-threatening infectious disease caused by a parasite, that affects millions of people in Latin America.

Genzyme and Fiocruz are collaborating initially on two research programmes.

The first focuses on identifying novel biological targets within the parasite that causes Chagas disease.

The second programme tests the effectiveness of a method of neutralising a protein that contributes to heart damage in Chagas disease.

Genzyme's HAND programme concentrates on diseases that collectively affect hundreds of millions of people including malaria, tuberculosis, leishmaniasis, and sleeping sickness.

Genzyme will not profit from the commercialisation of any products it hopes to develop in the programme.

Mr Drohan said: "HAND is just one of many humanitarian initiatives at Genzyme both globally and here in the UK where we have an active culture of volunteerism and support charities such as the Oxford Children's Hospital Campaign."

Lunchtime light music

THE city's renowned professional chamber orchestra the Britten Sinfonia continues its monthly lunchtime series at West Road Concert Hall in Cambridge on Tuesday, January 20. This month's 1pm recital will be a celebration of the work of composer Oliver Knussen and will be recorded by BBC Radio 3 for an upcoming broadcast.

The sinfonia's first major concert of the year is at West Road on February 5 when pianist Imogen Cooper returns as guest director for a performance of Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 3. Tickets for the lunchtime concert are £3-£7. To book call (01223) 357851.

Festival of fast films

THERE'S a night of short films on offer at the St Paul's Centre on Cambridge's Hills Road on Saturday. The event is organised by the team behind the Cambridge Super 8 Film Festival last year and features a selection of short films from amateur directors which each last between just a few seconds and 10 minutes in length. The evening starts at 8pm and tickets are £3-£4.

Feuds, dynasties and the big bad wolf

EASY Virtue (PG), based on Noel Coward's play about an Englishman who falls head over heels in love with an impossibly glamorous American, is showing on Friday, January 16, at 7.45pm.

After a hasty marriage they return to his family's stately pile to a less than warm reception, not least from the mother-in-law. Colin Firth and Jessica Biel star. Oliver Stone's biopic of the outgoing President George W Bush, W (15), views Dub-ya's rise to power as an almost Capra-esque tale: how did a reprobate and black sheep of his family rise to become leader of the Free World? W (15) shifts back and forth between Bush's hard-living younger years and his first team in office, showing the highs of his rise to power but also airing the ample lows. It will play on Saturday, January 17, at 7.45pm. Centre Stage Company brings panto Red Riding Hood to the centre from January 23 to 25 and from January 29 to 31. It stars Red Riding Hood, her granny, Prince Stefan, Dame Ida Hood and three disgruntled pigs - not to mention the wicked Lady Millicent. Come along for a laugh but be quick! Tickets for the 6pm January 23 and 25 shows have already sold out. ■ For more details, or to book tickets, call (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

C'mon everybody for classic 50's nostalgia

By Jo Deeks

DIG out your drape jackets and circle skirts from the back of the wardrobe for an evening of unashamed 50's nostalgia.

The Rock 'n' Roll show, C'mon Everybody will be giving its way to Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday, February 14. The musical legacy of legends like Bill Haley, Eddie Cochran, Jerry Lee Lewis, Buddy Holly and Chuck Berry will be celebrated along with tributes to Brenda Lee and Connie Francis in this fast-moving revue, starting at 8pm. The show features classic hits such as Rock Around the Clock, Three Steps to Heaven, Oh Boy! and Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On and has been entertaining Rock 'n' Roll enthusiasts since its inception more than five years ago.

It is masterminded by Chris 'Fender' Black who, along with the Blackcat musicians, and a team of professional vocalists and musicians will have audiences believe they are back in the days of big-finned cars, coffee bars and dancing around portable Dansette record players.

Finding time to fit in the music of Ray Charles, Chuck Berry, Duane Eddy, The Ramrods, Santo and Jonny, Bee Bumble and the Stingers, Frankie Ford, Jonny Kidd, Ray Campi and Clyde McPhatter, this is one show that any self-respecting Teddy Boy or Girl just can't afford to miss.

Tickets priced £15, or £13.50 for

■ Taurus (April - May 21)

It may be time to pause and take stock of your career plans. If you've been thinking about switching industries, this is the year to do so. Alternatively, if you want to take some time off, you can do that, too. It's all a matter of budgeting.

■ Gemini (May 21 - June 21)

You may have to undertake a long trip for work, education, health, or religious reasons. Make sure your passport is up to date and you lock in your air and hotel fares. Having printed receipts could save you from incurring additional costs.

■ Leo (July 21 - Aug 21)

A meeting of minds gives you new hope for the future. At times, you despair of ever meeting anyone who understands you. Recently an intelligent person has entered your social circle. They know how to engage with you. You could form a powerful partnership.

■ Libra (Sept 21 - Oct 21)

Lately, you've been spending a lot of time cooped up at home. A social butterfly like you needs to get out and have fun. True, you have responsibilities, but they shouldn't consign you to a life of drudgery. Ask for help babysitting or with chores.

■ Scorpio (Oct 21 - Nov 21)

Taking a short trip to see family could be in the cards. At first, the journey will seem a hassle, but you'll get into the spirit of things. If a relative asks for your opinion, give it. But be mindful of their feelings. It's possible to be truthful and tactful.

■ Sagittarius (Nov 21 - Dec 21)

It may be difficult to get off the phone this week. Everybody has been wondering where you've been. Actually, you probably haven't gone anywhere; you were just busy working. Still, it's nice to know you were missed.

You're earning more money than ever so create a plan or you could waste your time and effort. You won't always be this flush with cash. By putting a certain percentage into savings on a regular basis, you'll create a secure financial foundation.

■ Aquarius (Jan 21 - Feb 21)

Be as bold and visionary as you dare. Nobody will laugh. We're emerging from a very cautious period. Taking a risk will breathe new life into an organisation or relationship threatening to go stale. Trust your instincts with a contentious neighbour or relative.

■ Pisces (Feb 21 - March 21)

You've always been a solitary person, and that's especially true this week. Daydreaming is infinitely more interesting than work. You need to schedule time to expand your imagination. Wake up a little earlier so you can paint, write, or take photographs.

New-look C1 is on sale

CITROËN'S super-efficient C1 city car, complete with a smart new look for 2009, is now on sale featuring a restyled front end, new body colours and trims, as well as even lower CO2 emissions and improved fuel economy.

The C1's get-up-and-go spirit has been enhanced with a smaller bumper, available with sporty chrome touches, giving the car a more dynamic visage. Inside, a new interior trim is available while two new metallic body shades, Electra Blue and Mica Green, have been added.

Since it was launched in 2005, Citroën's C1 has become Europe's best selling sub-110g/km CO2 emitting car. Increasing demand has meant the C1 is now one of the UK's slowest depreciating cars, as well as one of the greenest, with the new model offering improved CO2 emissions as low as 106g/km. The nippy 1.0i petrol engine now boasts improved fuel consumption of up to 62.8mpg while the 1.4HDi can achieve an amazing 68.9mpg.

Prices start at £7,595.

■ UNDERCUTTING THE OPPOSITION . . . the Twingo Freeway.

Twingo Freeway is just £6,995

IF you would like to inject some driving style into the new year without breaking the bank then Renault has the answer with the launch of its lowest-priced Twingo, the Freeway.

Priced at £6,995 on the road, Twingo Freeway offers practicality, interior space and style joining the rest of the Twingo line-up – Extreme, Dynamique, GT and Renaultsport 133. The new model undercuts the entry-level Fiat 500 by more than £1,100 and the Ford Ka by more than £830!

Twingo Freeway boasts an impressive level of equipment despite its low price tag.

Peace of mind is assured with standard-fit ABS with EBD (Electronic Brake Distribution) and Brake Assist, driver and passenger airbags, passenger airbag deactivation, dead-locking, anti-drill door locks, an insurance-approved engine immobiliser and R.A.I.D. (Renault Anti-Intruder Device).

Insurance groups are still to be confirmed but are expected to be an extremely low 2E.

TABLE TENNIS ROUND-UP

Haverhill win to start 2009 in great style

HAVERHILL made a winning return to Cambridge and District Table Tennis League, Division One action after the festive break.

They notched a 6-4 home victory over Impington, who were a player short, because of illness.

Elsewhere in the division, two wins each for Tim Avis and Keith Richardson of NCI made it hard for champions St George's before their team eventually lost 6-4. County champion, Martin Grays claimed three wins for the Saints.

High-flying St Ives II were brought down to earth by their first team, losing 8-2 with three wins for Simon Pryke and two each for Alan Smith and Leon Rogers.

Nigel Bates was on form for RCG Stapleford with three wins, but again he could not prevent another defeat, this time to fellow strugglers Soham.

Over recorded an emphatic 9-1 win against Cambridge II for whom Jim Carswell had to retire with an elbow injury in a match that had some contentious decisions.

In Division Two, St George's II beat promotion hopefuls Soham II 6-4 with newcomer Steve Annison proving too strong for the Mohan family with three comfortable wins, although dad Liam won two singles and the doubles with Christian.

A good all-round performance by Paul Grammer, Tony Martin and Bob Pettit with two wins each, enabled Impington II to triumph 6-4 over a strong Haverhill II for whom Caroline Wright also won two matches.

■ AT THE DOUBLE...
Caroline Wright, who notched two wins for the defeated Haverhill second team.

In a top-of-the-table clash in Division Three, Impington III remained on course for promotion by recording a 7-3 win against their Over counterparts.

Colin Adams won three for Impington, while Over suffered because of the absence of Terry Edwards.

Fulbourn beat CIBA 7-3 with three wins each for Marc Meunier and Ju Young to keep alive their promotion hopes.

In Division Four, the leaders, Impington IV, defeated Bassingbourn 6-4, although Val Parkes won three for the losers, including a comfortable victory against Brian Judd, which ended his 100 per cent record.

Martin Bootman, of Impington VI, got the better of his Impington V clubmates in winning his three singles, but ended on the losing side as his team went down 7-3.

In the other inter-club battle, St Ives VI, with only two players, were beaten 8-2 by their fifth team, although Steve Budd won two for the losers.

WESTON Colville II have been handed a home draw against Wimblington in the first round of the Cambridge Stick Lower Junior Cup.

The tie is scheduled to take place on May 17.

SWIMMING

■ FAMILIAR GROUND...
Top open-water swimmer Alan Bircher is back helping the stars of the future at his old club.

Ace Alan goes back to roots

ALAN Bircher made it to the top in the gruelling world of open-water swimming.

Now the Haverhill swimmer is turning his hand to coaching at his old stomping ground of West Suffolk, hoping he can make a similar splash from poolside.

Bircher has linked up with head coach and former club-mate Daniel Pilbrow to become distance and fitness trainer, with the aim of bringing the good times back to the club.

"I knew I'd stop swimming at the end of last season whether I went to the Olympics or not," said Bircher, who missed out on Beijing but whose career highlights include silvers at the World and European Championships in 2004.

"This is the club where both myself and Dan grew up as swimmers. He had a lot of work on, so it's a good place to start my coaching career and help him.

"The club has gone through some tough times and just needed a couple of guys to have a fresh outlook on it and that's what we're aiming to do.

"We want to get the club back to where it was, because it's a quality club which has produced several junior internationals and two senior internationals in myself and Jess Craig.

"I think there were seven head coaches in eight years and they all wanted to put their own ideas in place, so the kids haven't had any stability. Hopefully, that will change with myself and Dan.

"There's a long way to go, but we can get there."

Bircher, 27, took his first steps in coaching by helping girlfriend Stefanie Biller to second place in the Women's Marathon Swimming Grand Prix series last year.

But while the German was already a swimmer with a big pedigree, Bircher hopes he can use his racing experience to find her successors at West Suffolk.

Having reached the top of his game, though, he warned he was "a perfectionist" and will expect high standards from his charges.

"I've always been coached by people who had good personalities. But were pretty hard on you as well, and I'm going to be the same," said Bircher.

"I'll have a good laugh with the kids, but when it's time for business, there won't be too much nicey-nicey stuff from me.

"Coming from a professional background to an amateur situation, I will try to raise that bar.

"They needed someone to do that and the kids have responded well to it. I've been taking a group of five guys who were identified as being capable of taking the club forward in distance swimming and they've achieved my expectations over the first three months, but they'll have to continue doing that for the rest of the season.

"I'm a very driven person and I want us to get as many swimmers to national championships as we can – if we can get two or three this year, I'll be happy."

The former Bath University swimmer is doing his bit to help restore the profile of West Suffolk outside the pool, going as far as running a marathon around Disney World in Florida to raise funds for the club.

Bircher has also landed a deal for the club with TYR swimwear and wants to help overhaul their website to give it a more professional look.

He said: "Myself and Dan want to do our best to get West Suffolk noticed again."

Haverhill Rovers' chances of climbing away from the foot of the Ridgions League, Premier Division were thwarted by the weekend's Arctic weather.

Along with the remainder of the league programme, Rovers' scheduled match with Kirkley & Pakefield on Saturday was called off because of a frozen pitch at Hamlet Croft.

Manager Peter Betts and his team will be hoping to return to action this Saturday when Rovers are again due to be at home with Felixstowe & Walton providing the opposition. Felixstowe are mid-table, but are the type of opposition Rovers must aspire to beat if they are to win their battle against relegation.

The teams shared a 2-2 draw when they met at Felixstowe on November 22 – the last time Rovers collected a league point.

The match is the prelude to a busy and crucial period of matches coming up for Betts and his team.

On Saturday, January 24, they face a trip to Wivenhoe Town, who have been struggling recently, but made national headlines last week by appointing former West Ham United star Julian Dicks as their new manager.

Rovers will then be playing two matches a week with a trip to high-flying Mildenhall Town on Tuesday, January 27, followed by a home match against Walsham le Willows four days later.

Needham Market provide the opposition at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday, February 3, while the following Saturday, Rovers are scheduled to travel to take on fellow strugglers Woodbridge Town, a side they defeated 3-1 at home in November.

Rovers are also offering supporters another chance to see a match for free when they open Hamlet Croft's gates to everyone for no charge on Friday, February 13, for their important relegation battle with Ely City.

It will be a repeat of a special fans' day, which saw more than 300 supporters turn up for the victory over Woodbridge. Kick off is at 7.45pm and the match will be followed by a race night in the Hamlet Croft clubhouse.
